

Twin City Organizes For College Campaign

DR. J. MAURER TO DELIVER BACCALAUREATE SERMON

Third Baccalaureate Service Of Waterloo College To Be Held At St. Matthew's, Kitchener,
on May 26

The baccalaureate service which is to take place at St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Kitchener, on Sunday, May 26, at 3 p.m., will mark the beginning of Convocation Week. The third graduating class of Waterloo College and its many friends will at that time gather for divine worship and to hear the baccalaureate sermon, which will be preached by the Rev. J. Maurer, M.A., D.D.

In previous years this sermon has been unique and impressive and has been attended by a large circle of friends of Waterloo College. The speaker, Dr. Maurer, pastor of the First English Lutheran Church of Kitchener, is well known because of the active part he has taken in the work of the Lutheran Church of Canada, especially as the former president of the board of governors of Waterloo College and Seminary.

On the following Friday, May 31, the members of the class of '29 of Waterloo College will be graduated at the Convocation of the University of Western Ontario at London.

ALBERT D. HERBERT FIRST IN PUBLIC SPEAKING CONTEST

Harold J. Crouse is Awarded
Second Place

In what C. Mortimer Bezeau, chairman of the judges, characterized as "the closest contest he had ever had anything to do with," A. Herbert captured the gold medal, donated by the K-W Rotary Club, at the annual public speaking contest of Waterloo College held in the assembly hall of the Waterloo Public Library. H. Crouse took second honours, securing the silver medal. This decision was reached after quite a long discussion between the judges, C. Bezeau, R. Merritt, B.A., and Rev. A. Orzen.

Upon opening, Dean Froats of Waterloo College welcomed the people who had come to encourage the five contestants who were preparing themselves for "the most difficult art on earth."

A. Herbert, to whom first prize was awarded, spoke on "Canada's Immigration Policy," while H. Crouse, the silver medalist, spoke on "The Unity of the British Empire." The other speeches of A. Buehlow on

CAMPAIGN TO OPEN MAY 3RD TO CONTINUE FOR TEN DAYS

Executive Committee Of Campaign Organized: Hon. W. D. Euler, Honorary Chairman; W. G. Weichel, M.L.A., General Chairman; Committees On Publicity, Speakers And Lists Appointed.

If the enthusiasm, which has been manifested at the various meetings of those interested in the Waterloo College Campaign, is any presage of success, the objective of $150,000 will be oversubscribed.

"Waterloo College has come to a crisis. In order that this crisis may be met, $150,000 must be raised or Waterloo College will cease to exist. Then, if not now, the people of the Twin City would realize what a real asset a college is to a community," were the words of Chairman W. G. Weichel, M.L.A., at the first meeting of the campaign executive committee. The meeting was held at the K-W Y.M.C.A., Mr. Weichel presided. The Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of National Revenue, was appointed honorary chairman of the campaign committee. The committee members were the dinner guests of the chairman.

This committee will consist of eight divisions, each division of five teams, and each team of five workers and a captain. Thus 240 active workers, both men and women, representing nearly all the denominations of the Twin City, will unite their efforts and endeavor to raise $150,000 so that young men and women of Kitchener and Waterloo may receive at Waterloo College courses leading to a B.A. degree.

In addressing the committee Dean Froats gave a summary of the work done by the College and laid special emphasis upon the need of immediate financial aid. He stressed the fact that Waterloo College is not denominational, but is open to all young men and women. He said, "We are rendering a splendid service to the Twin City and the community in general, and unless the citizens of Kitchener and Waterloo come to the aid of the institution, the college department will undoubtedly have to close."

Mr. S. C. Tweed, a member of the executive committee, was very optimistic of the outcome of the campaign drive. He stressed particularly the great benefit that Waterloo College is to the Twin City. The institution, he said, deserved the financial support of the two communities, and especially should the larger industries become interested. Mr. A. J. Cundick dwelt on the non-

Board of Governors Gives Unanimous Decision In Favour of Co-education

Plans For The Receiving Of Co-eds
in September Are Now
Under Way

Co-education at Waterloo College developed from the stage of probability to one of reality when the board of governors in a special session held at Waterloo College on Tuesday, April 16, decided to make such alterations and additions as were necessary for the introduction of co-education in September.

The meeting of the board of governors, which required the greater part of the morning and afternoon was one of the most strenuous ever experienced by its members. Dr. N. Willison, president of the board, presided. The outstanding issue of the session was the opening of the doors of Waterloo College to the co-eds of the Twin City to which the board gave their unanimous approval.

Following a tour of inspection through the college the members of the board were given an idea of the alterations which the adoption of co-education would necessitate. Besides minor changes in the building, the addition of a woman to the faculty, who will become "dean of women" will become necessary with

DR. A. A. ZINCK TO ADDRESS SEMINARY GRADUATES

Services To Be Held in St. John's
Lutheran Church, Waterloo,
On May 17

Diplomas in theology will be presented to Messrs. Baetz, Datars, Keffler, Ludolph, and Schultz at the sixteenth anniversary of the graduation exercises of the Evangelical Lutheran Seminary of Canada in St. John's Lutheran church, Waterloo, on May 17, at 8 p.m.

The Rev. A. A. Zinck, S.T.D., of Milwaukee, Wis., a former president and professor at the Seminary, will deliver the sermon to the graduates. The Rev. Zinck is well known in Kitchener and Waterloo. Those who have heard him preach before, will undoubtedly not miss the opportunity of hearing him at this service.

The Editor's Chair

Our Aim Every newspaper, magazine or journal has a distinctive field and a distinctive purpose. "The College Cord" is no exception. It is published with the purpose of developing an esprit de corps among the students at Waterloo College, and of portraying the life and activities of the institution to its many friends and thereby drawing them ever closer in sympathy to "the school on the hillside."

That these ends have not always been attained has been pointed out to us in numerous criticisms which have come to our ears. We greatly regret that at times "The Cord" has failed in its purpose. Rash statements, articles which did not always represent the consensus of opinion, have appeared. Since we are here to learn, constructive criticism is ever welcome.

We want to assure our readers that we have not merely a definite purpose in view, but that we are trying to come as near to the standard as possible. It is also our hope that you may learn to know the college better and better.

To Our Mothers At the mention of the word mother, many sweet memories pass through our minds. Never can we forget the tenderness, the sympathy, the consolation that poured forth for us from that fountain-head of immortal love; nor will we ever fully realize the sacrifice which that love demanded.

In our darkest hour, when all the world seems to have turned against us, where can we find greater consolation than in the memory of a dear mother? Kipling once wrote:

"If I were damned of body and soul,
I know whose love would make me whole,
Mother o' mine, mother o' mine!"

May the thought that once a mother, as she leaned over us and looked into our face, had a vision that some day we would be her pride and joy ever urge us on to strive ever upwards that her wish may be fulfilled.

When, on the first Sunday in May, the whole nation unites in celebrating Mother's Day, we too, will lay our tribute at your feet, mother, and, in the pretty flower we will wear in remembrance of you, we will see your smiling face again.

Concords

The attention of readers is called to the fact that the "The College Cord" is not responsible for the opinions expressed in open letters to the editor.

When Dean Froats returned from the conference at London, he brought a number of books with him. These books, forty-seven in number, were presented to Waterloo College by Prof. F. Landon of the University of Western Ontario. The students of Waterloo College wish to take this opportunity of expressing a hearty vote of thanks to Prof. Landon for his most generous gift.

Last year an effort was made to organize a form of student government without much success. Although it is already too late to attempt anything of that nature this term, there is no harm in looking forward. Student government would relieve the housefather of many cares. Furthermore, at present there is no organization which represents the student body as a whole, a situation which, at times, makes it difficult to obtain the necessary unity and co-operation among the students

An old issue of the Cord imparts the information that a sum of money was given by the Young People's Society of Pembroke, the interest of which was to be used as a scholarship known as the "Kohls Memorial Scholarship." As far as can be ascertained this scholarship has never been awarded anyone. What has become of it?

STUDENTS SUPPORT COLLEGE CAMPAIGN

In spite of approaching examinations, students at Waterloo College are lending a hand wherever possible in the campaign to raise $150,000 for the institution.

Daily, after classes, a group of students help in the extensive publicity preparations and other office work at campaign headquarters.

Besides these duties the students will assist Mr. A. W. Sandroek, on the speakers committee. A number of them are preparing four minute speeches in which they will present the possibilities and the appeal of Waterloo College to various clubs, fraternities and other organizations in the Twin City.

It is also rumoured that a student division is being organized to assist in the final drive of the campaign.

GERMANIA MEMBERS PRESENT PROGRAMME

Short but Interesting Programme
Ablly Rendered

A short but interesting meeting of the Germania society was held on Thursday evening, April 18. The meeting was opened by singing the well known song, "Gaudeamus Igitur." After a short discussion the secretary was ordered to collect "Zwei Schilling" from each member to cover the expenses of the society.

A chapter from "The Life of Heine" was then read by Mr. H. Little. In this reading he outlined the circumstances that led to the writing of the famous German poem "Du bist wie eine Blume." It happened one day, he related, while Heine was walking in the woods that the poet came upon a beautiful girl, without friends or a home. Heine took her to Berlin and placed her with respectable people. Before he left her, he wrote two verses on a piece of paper. These lines are now famous the world over.

Another reading was given by Mr. Neff. He read a chapter from the book, "Ein Sommer in Deutschland." This reading was well given and very humorous. It dealt with a rich American traveller who stayed at a German hotel for a few days. During his stay dozens of servants attended him, expecting tips that were how-

Solitude

Peaked heaps of clouds climb up the sky and break
The infinite depths of blue; the lonely firs,
On yonder sombre cliff and in the lake,
No freshening breeze, no friendly ripple stirs.
A soaring sea-gull, lone with lonely cry,
Lends but more awe to the tense solitude;
The whirr of Whistler's wings, soon swiftly by,
Augments the silence. They do but intrude.
A single elm tree, at whose base I stand,
His drooping arms stretched down in rough caress,
Arrests the dreary scene. Yet, sky and land,
Out from his shelter, every sense oppress.

SYNOPSIS OF SPEECHES AWARDED PRIZES IN SPEAKING CONTEST

Discourse on Immigration and Imperial Unity

1. Should we have more people in Canada?
2. What have we to offer prospective immigrants as an incentive to come to Canada?
3. What class of immigrants should we attempt to get?

Around these three questions, A. Herbert, the winner of the gold medal at the annual public speaking contest, wove his speech.

In answer to the first question Mr. Herbert said: "We ought to have more people, we need more. We have room in Canada for 122,000,000 people. But you will agree with me that our present objective should not be to fill up the country to its ultimate capacity, or anywhere near it. We should merely strive to reach our effective minimum population, say, about 35,000,000. This principle is based on hard and stubborn economic facts.

"What have we to offer to prospective immigrants? We have practically unlimited resources of the finest timber in the world, we have as yet scarcely begun to explore our mineral resources, our coal fields of the West. Peace reigns in our country. Moreover, Canada has a future. Whether this so brilliant and promising future will be realized or not, depends wholly on the future Canadians. And that leads us to the next point to what class of people we want in Canada.

"In the first place we want British subjects. We need more people of our own blood to mould the incoming army of foreigners into loyal, self-respecting, British subjects. Then we want immigrants from U. S. States and Central Europe.

"Our choice is, whether we are prepared to risk a comparatively small amount of capital in assimilating a comparatively small number of people, of races which we perhaps consider inferior, or whether we will per-were also on the program, but as the former was ill and as the latter gave his speech elsewhere, the program was shortened considerably.

The remarks of criticism were then given by Dr. Schorten. He pointed out a few mistakes to each reader. But on the whole was quite well pleased with the two numbers. He then related to the Society his experiences with "Trinkgeld" while visiting in Germany several years ago. He said that ten percent is added to one's bill for tips, when it is paid at the office. In this way the traveller is relieved of all worry and inconvenience. After singing a few songs, the meeting was adjourned.

TWIN CITY ORGANIZES COLLEGE CAMPAIGN

sectarian status of the college. He said that the general impression seemed to be that it was a Lutheran Seminary. This view, he, of course, corrected by saying that the doors of the College were open to boys and girls of every denomination. He thought that the success of the campaign and the future of Waterloo College depended upon the realization of this fact by the people of the community.

Dr. H. A. Sperling, minister of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, was appointed chairman of the publicity committee; A. W. Sandrock, chairman of the speakers committee; and A. F. Klugman, chairman of the lists committee.

Members of the campaign committee who attended the meeting included W. G. Weichel, H. L. Albrecht, W. D. Brill, A. J. Cundick, Rev. C. W. Foreman, Rev. A. S. Imrie, Mrs. Chas. Mueller, I. G. Needles, Ira Snyder, Alex Schaefer, J. H. Schmidt, A. W. Sandrock, W. H. E. Schmalz, Rev. J. Schmieder, Otto Smith, Dr. H. A. Sperling, J. H. Smyth, S. C. Tweed and Miss Decima Zimmerman.

Committees Report Progress

The reports of the various committees given at the second dinner meeting held at the K-W Y.M.C.A. on Friday, April 19, showed splendid progress in the organization of the college campaign. Clergymen and business men of the Twin City are showing co-operation. The meeting was attended by fifteen members of the executive, W. G. Weichel, M.L.A., general chairman, presided.

Dr. H. A. Sperling, chairman of the publicity committee, in submitting a very favourable report, stated that permission had been obtained to stretch campaign banners across King street in Kitchener and Waterloo, and to place posters in the vestibules of different Twin City churches.

The chairman of the speakers committee, A. W. Sandrock, announced that the Rev. G. Taylor-Munro of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Kitchener, had been added to the committee and that an effort was being made to include Rev. Finlay Matheson of the United Church of Waterloo, in the committee's personnel. This committee intends to have speakers address all service clubs and fraternal organizations in the Twin City in the near future.

The lists committee, headed by A. F. Klugman, also reported progress in its work.

At this meeting the personnel of the honorary committee was announced.

Organization Nears Completion

The dinner meeting held at the Walper House on Wednesday, April 24th, showed that civic pride and genuine interest in higher education for young men and women is prompting the citizens of Kitchener and Waterloo to join in saving Waterloo College. Over forty leading men and women, consisting of division chairmen, team captains and others interested, were present. The meeting was presided over by the general chairman, W. G. Weichel.

Organization chart showed that the team captaincies in each division were practically completed. With this basic group, undoubtedly the greatest organization to carry the cause of Christian education to the citizens of the Twin City will be built.

Louis Hagey, a member of the graduating class of Waterloo College, gave a short talk on "What Waterloo College Means to Me." In closing Mr. Hagey said: "Although I am not a Lutheran I availed myself of the opportunities offered by Waterloo College, and feel confident that the splendid preparation procured is fitting me for a worthy, useful and successful career. By reason of the fact that Waterloo College is located where it is and that its costs are so low, a college education was made possible for me. I hope that the day will come when I will be able to express in a substantial way my appreciation of the great service rendered me by my Alma Mater."

In a few remarks, Dr. N. Willison, president of the Board of Governors, said: "I am gratified with the whole hearted support and co-operation as expressed by this gathering of enthusiastic men and women of all denominations in the Twin City for our community college at Waterloo. Your support confirms our belief that we are serving a community need. I know that, when you as leaders carry our story to the good people of the Twin City, their feelings will be sympathetic and their response generous. I see in you the successful culmination of our effort and an over-subscription of $150,000."

Plans for the campaign and details in connection with the organization have been worked out in readiness for the opening of the campaign. At this meeting it was announced that the campaign will open on May 3rd and will continue for ten days.

The 1928-29 Gridiron Squad of Waterloo College

Waterloo College opened its rugby season with the O.A.C. at Guelph. The first game was rather loose, the line giving way in many places and end runs not functioning very well. The game was very interesting, however, and comparatively clean, with no penalties being handed out. The following week the team played at London against Western. Due to some of the players not arriving a defeat was suffered. The team showed a marked improvement, however, and a better brand of rugby was played than at Guelph. The next game was played against St. Jeromes of Kitchener. The team played well on this occasion and won the only game of the season. At the opening of the athletic field Waterloo met the Kitchener O.R.F.U. Juniors. The Juniors are an experienced team and the college made a creditable showing against the more practiced rugbyists.

This hurried survey of Waterloo College's rugby activities has been given to show the disadvantage under which the College is struggling. Rugby is a comparatively young sport at Waterloo and on each occasion they have been pitted against teams of a much wider experience. The team was undaunted by this, however, and fought hard to win. What Waterloo needs is a team in a rugby league to give our players experience and confidence. Merely picking up games here and there under all sorts of disadvantages is apt to discourage and can never develop an A1 team. Let's hope for a team in a league next year!

The school owes much to Mr. Henderson of Kitchener, who sacrificed much of his time to come up to Waterloo and coach the boys along. We had no whirlwind team, but "Tommy" took a bunch of rookies and within a few weeks presented the school with a set of rugby players who could hold and buck the line and kick a ball. When we consider the short space of time in which this was accomplished we must marvel at "Tommy's" doggedness, and give credit where credit is due.

Quite a number of last year's players will be leaving this year. Some have only recently made the acquaintance of the pigskin game, others are more experienced, but Waterloo will miss them all when the work-outs begin again. The manager, Albert Herbert, will leave. Albert worked hard to give rugby a chance in Waterloo. He may have been rather hasty and tactless at times but we can perhaps overlook this when we consider that he created an enthusiasm and a desire for rugby at Waterloo College, which will help to place Waterloo in rugby circles. Another member who is leaving is Harry Weir. Harry assumed the position of quarterback and the cool, quick and unhesitating manner in which he called and executed his signals and gave the other members of the team the confidence which meant so much in holding the team together. George Roberts has also played his last season of rugby for Waterloo. George is light, but is a fast and brainy player, and came in very handy throughout the season in making the end runs successful. John Herbert will also finish this year. John's heavy bulk was often used to block many a rush, and his departure will leave a vacant spot in the line.

As a whole the team did very well under the circumstances. Every man deserves credit for his part in the games. But special mention should be given here to Imrie, Orth and Casselman. Imrie and Orth were exceptionally good on the long runs and their opponents found them slippery problems to tackle. Casselman was a brute for punishment, and when any rushes or bucks were to be made the "heavy Easterner" was used as an effective battering ram.

PHYSICAL TRAINING DISPLAY SAT. APRIL 26

Interesting Program to be Presented; Special Vocal Numbers to be Given by Miss Berlet

The readers of the College Cord probably saw, in the last issue, the notice about the Waterloo College Physical Training display, to be held on Saturday, April 27, at 2.30 p. m. This will be the third annual exhibition given by the students of the college. They have spared no efforts in preparing for it and it will certainly be bigger and better than ever. So be sure not to miss it.

Here's the program.

The gym class will begin the afternoon with exhibitions of wand drill and sailor's Hornpipes. Special Parallel-bar work, Tumbling and Horse work are featured. Spectacular pyramids will be presented too. A number of clever skits including a Dance act, a Murder act, and a Houdini act will vary the program. A special feature of the program will be a vocal solo by Miss Esther Berlet.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS.

the presence of girls in the institution.

Although many girls in this vicinity have expressed the desire to attend Waterloo College if co-education were adopted, due to limited accommodation only those residing in the Twin City will be able to register in September.

The enthusiasm with which the faculty of the college received the decision of the board of governors was ample proof that they are in sympathy with the project.

The members of the board of governors who were present at this session were: Dr. N. Willison, Hamilton; Rev. J. Alberti, Bornholm; Rev. R. B. Geelhaar, Listowel; Rev. T. A. Iseler, Port Colbourne; Rev. J. Reble, Hamilton; Dr. O. Klaehn, Montreal; A. L. Bitzer, Kitchener; A. D. Brill, Waterloo; Gordon Hollinger, St. Jacobs; Karl Homuth, M. L. A., Preston.

COLLEGE ALUMNI NEWS

Here we are again, optimistic as ever. Altho our announcement that every issue of the Cord would contain an Alumni column has turned out to be a joke, we are always willing to try again. We will promise that the rest of the issues for this term will contain news of interest to you.

Keep this date open: May 28, Tuesday, in Convocation Week. We are hoping to see you at the Annual Banquet.

The following names which have been proposed by the nominating committee, have been sent to each of the Regular Members of the Association:

For President: Herbert Kalbfleisch '28. Harold Ruppel '28. Harry Baetz '27.

For Vice-President: E. Rowe Cunningham '28. Garnet Schultz '27. Wilfred Schweitzer '28.

For Secretary-Treasurer: Albert Lotz '27. J. Gerald Hagey '28.

For Corresponding Secretary: Rev. E. Neudoerffer, Earle C. Shelley '28.

Gerald Hagey has apparently set out to prove that a liberal Arts education does not make men unfit for business, but that it rather aids their success. Gerry is a real salesman. In the campaign for the Kitchener-Waterloo Y.M.C.A., he was one of the best canvassers. If proof is needed, we may add that he even induced three of the younger professors to part with some hard-earned cash. Gerry has also distinguished himself in being elected to the position of Secretary of the University Men's Club of Kitchener.

Four of Waterloo's graduates are now preparing for graduation from our Theological Seminary into the Lutheran ministry. Another of our charter members, Rev. Prof. A. A. Zinck of Milwaukee, will preach the sermon to the graduates in St. John's Church, Waterloo, on Friday, May 17.

It is more than a smart remark to say that the Canadians who go to learn from the Americans what they have to teach, also go to teach the Americans what they have to learn. It is true that students who are in a foreign land are "good-will ambassadors"—but they can also do a great deal to remove wrong ideas about their own land existing in that foreign country. Such has been the experience of one of our graduates at Columbia University, New York City.

We have before us a clipping from the Columbia student daily, the Spectator, in which a letter to the editor signed by E. Rowe Cunningham objects to a statement made by the chairman of a meeting held on the University campus. The occa-

Examinations

Hardly a stir is heard from the fourth-floor. But why so quiet? Do the third-floor students wish to study? Or has Dr. Schorten been up to visit some of the students? No! Our examinations are here.

The students only appear for classes and at meal-time, but even then some of them keep sleeping. The students who did not work during the year are now working diligently. Those who studied all year are now working for the various scholarships.

In third form the marks will be taken for recommendation purposes for the examinations coming in June. In the other forms the marks will be added to their year's work.

No meetings have been held in either society for the past two weeks. Classes and meetings have been deferred until after the examinations.

Owing to the flood in Neustadt William Hill was absent for several days after the Easter recess.

sion was a recital given by a French woman, of old Eskimo, Indian and French Canadian songs. The chairman expressed herself pleased with the program "because it brought us closer to our Canadian neighbours"—in reply to this Rowe waxed eloquent. He said in part: "Now these songs did anything but that. They were songs that were existent before the Pilgrim Fathers set foot on American soil. That statement conveyed to those in the audience who did not know Canada, especially students from foreign countries, that Canadians consisted of Eskimos, Indians and French-Canadians, while the truth is that these people form but a small fraction of the population. It would be as logical to say that a program of songs of the Creoles of the Everglades. Negro spirituals, and Sioux war-whoops, was representative of, and brought us closer to the great American people." Further he says: "Why then should the old Roman idea prevail,—that all to the north are barbarous.

SOPHOMORES AWAKE

Who said, "What is the matter with the class of '31?" Might the class ask for a reconsideration? why? Because they found a new impetus. How. In the form of a new member in the person of Fred H. Goos who has been added to their wee but potent number.

Now, with an increased number action has been taken. The class at their last regular meeting decided to hold a mixed banquet on May 1st at Conestoga. Just watch them go.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mr. Editor: Being an ardent reader of your College publication I feel it my duty to reply to the article "A Man's Game" in your last issue.

According to the author's use of the word "man" he doubtless means it in the broadest or anthropological sense, hence a law-breaker falling under this category, is a man, thus has a business, and should go without interference for the writer clearly stated that a man's business is his own business.

This we know is absolutely ludicrous, for we can plainly see what condition society would be if no one made it his business to interfere with the perpetrators of misdemeanors. Moreover nowhere in society is a man's business strictly his own business, for in all walks of life a man's business must be in conformity with the rules and regulations of the society in which he finds himself. For after all man's so-called freedom is largely only of a negative nature, that is, he loves to call himself a free man but let him do something contrary to the wishes of society and see how long his freedom will go unchecked.

Yet society continuously keeps certain men for the sole purpose of interfering in man's business if it is of a shady nature. Accordingly a student's business is not his own business if it goes contrary to the principles of the institution which he attends. Thus if any student does wrong it is the duty of his fellow students or members of the faculty to bring him to task for the sake of the school's reputation. In such a case who is playing the man's game: the student who has gone contrary to the rules and whose interests are entirely of a selfish nature or the one who brings him to task for the welfare of the rest of the students and for the institution at large?

Then again the word "snitcher" in underworld parlance only refers to a fellow crook who has squealed or tattled on one of his former pals and does not apply to one upholding the law for the good of his fellow-men whether he be especially appointed for the purpose or not.

It seems that the whole basis of the writer's argument—if it can be called such—is merely the natural response of one who has been trampled upon for having done something opposed to the ideas of his colleagues. The mere fact that the article was written shows that the author himself must have been guilty of some misdemeanor, for I am sure you seldom hear anyone complain for having done some good deed, and you seldom hear anyone tattling on someone who has not transgressed the law. If this is not the case then the writer has written it for the saintly purpose of upholding the actions of another thus becoming an

Members of the Waterloo College hockey team, Lutheran Hockey League champions, were banquetted at Hermie Wagner's on Friday, April 19.

A number of the College boys attended the lecture of Rev. H. Spence on Francis Thompson's "Hound of Heaven" held at St. John's Parish Hall under the auspices of the Luther League.

Students H. Casselman, F. Goos, H. Crouse and J. Neff on Tuesday evening, April 23, motored to London with Prof. R. J. E. Hirtle to attend the First Chemistry Dinner of the University of Western Ontario. Dinner was served at the De Luxe Cafe and later the gathering adjourned to the Science Hall where Dr. Bowman spoke on Ethical Chemistry.

WHO'LL BE THE FIRST?

Now that co-education is a surety, and application forms for admission to Waterloo College in September are ready, the anxiety as to who will be the first co-ed to make application is becoming tense.

Admission to Waterloo College can be granted only to those who have, or will have, full matriculation in September and who are leaving collegiate, preferably with upper school certificates.

Application forms can be obtained from either Willis C. Froats, Dean, or Prof. R. J. E. Hirtle, Registrar, or any of the students of Waterloo College.

accessory to the act which throws him open to as much guilt as the actual perpetrator himself. This, one can plainly see is not in keeping with his line of argument that each man should mind his own business and not interfere with that of another, which is, as he states not playing a man's game. All this is absolutely contrary to his hypothesis.

It is really lamentable, my dear Editor, that the erudition of such men should be so misemployed and it would be well for such to keep their arguments more within the scope of their abecedaire.

A Reader, whose interests lie first in the reputation of your institution.

SYNOPSIS OF SPEECHES

 mit this vast area of productive lands to remain unproductive. It's up to the people of Canada."

H. Crouse, to whom the second prize was awarded, delivered a splendid address on "The Unity of the British Empire."

"The British Empire," he said, "consists of countries scattered among the several oceans of the world, whose coasts are washed by the waters of many zones upon which the sun never sets. Today, she is the greatest unified force in the world."

"Wherein does this unity consist?" he asked. His reply was: "That the bonds joining a colony to the Motherland were to be found in a close affection which grows from common names, kindred blood, similar privileges and equal protection."

"How has the unity been developed?" He stated that "the British Empire stands for a richer and more varied life among all nations that compose it. By extending to her colonies liberty, freedom and self-government, she has developed this unified spirit."

"How can it be maintained? Friends, we have four potent factors we must rely on for the future:

1. Kingship.
2. The Imperial Conference.
3. The Union Jack.
4. The British Constitution.

"Are we going to leave this old story of the British Empire fade away?—This old time-earned story which has drifted down through the ages, and constitutes the noblest pages of history ever written. Let us rather go forward with a greater unity, springing from no tangible or visible ties, but one from a common allegiance to the throne, based on our common citizenship, on the ideals and stars of freedom and justice."

 "The National Spirit of Canada, J. Herbert on "The St. Lawrence Waterways Development," and G. Roberts on "Canadian Character in the Making," were excellent, and the judges had a difficult task, in eliminating them, to pick the winners."

Mr. C. Bezeau, chairman, in submitting his report paid high tribute to these fluent orators. "I doubt," he said, "if twenty-five percent of the members of parliament could deliver such splendid addresses as these men have done tonight." Giving an idea as to the closeness of the competition, he said that the points awarded to the highest speaker were 250, while those of the lowest were 233.

Discords

Shelley: "Did you read my poem in the last Cord?"

Monk: "It alone was worth the three cents."

Cass: "Ouch, I bumped my crazy bone."

Crouse: "That's all right, just comb your hair different and nobody will notice the bump."

Latin Prof: (analyzing a sentence) "What's the subject,"

Neff: (waking up) "Latin sir!"

He: "Haven't I run across your face before."

2nd he: "No, it's always been like this."

The following is a sample of a Waterlooite's idea of a girl this year:

A girl
A curl
Of auburn hair
Falls idly there
Above the soft brown eyes
Two lips
As roses in May, warm dew
Bright, crimsoned in their hue
An open smile
Of youthful glee
More sweet
Than angels in the skies,
The whispered flow
Of truest love
The skies low drawn,
The face just gently prest,
Upon my breast,
Ah! this Is Paradise
To me.

Then after co-education has begun—the same fellow but a different idea:

A girl, any girl, just so she hasn't red hair,
A date, just one date, and I'm bored again,
What a monotonous thing it is,
They're all painted the same,
Each one uses the same old words,
the same perfume and the same technique.
Gold-diggers all! I want a change
And for me Paradise
Is seclusion, a pipe and peace.

English Prof: "—and now the question of metre."

Schaus (always anxious): "Oh, yes. I would like to meet'er.

selections. Miss Marion Willison sang a contralto solo, Mr. Eric Kahn played a solo on the violin and Mrs. J. Gordon Motherall rendered a soprano solo. All three were accompanied by Mr. F. Lincke, pianist. The applause they received indicates the ability and genius of the above artists. Throughout the course of the evening, St. John's Luther League orchestra played a number of selections which were greatly enjoyed.
